ROLE PROFILE

Job Title: Teaching Associate in Veterinary Anatomy (T&L4)

Job Family & Level: Research and Teaching Level 4

Contract Status: Permanent

Hours of Work: Full time, 36.25 hours per week

Location: The post will be based at the School of Veterinary Medicine and Science, Sutton Bonington Campus and at the Clinical Associate Practices.

Responsible to: Head of Division

Job Outline:
To carry out teaching, and administration in the field of applied veterinary anatomy and physiology. This role may suit a practising veterinary surgeon who wishes to move into an academic teaching position.

Main Duties and Responsibilities:

- To participate in the delivery of teaching and on-going development of an innovative integrated, undergraduate curriculum (this may include convening a teaching module).

- To participate and facilitate teaching and supervision of both undergraduate and postgraduate students in the area of applied veterinary anatomy and physiology.

- To teach and examine in a wide range of modules convened by the School. The modules involved may embrace any area of Veterinary Science (dependent upon the background and experience of the persons appointed).

- To assist with the delivery of postgraduate programmes and CPD, dependant on skill-set

- To forge appropriate educational collaborations within and outside the University

- To undertake training consistent with continuous professional development.

- To assist with the efficient and effective completion of the work of the School.

- To undertake any other duties appropriate to the grade and role of the person appointed, as required by the Head of School.

This job description may be subject to revision following discussion with the person appointed and forms part of the contract of employment.
Person Specification:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Qualifications/ Education</th>
<th>Essential</th>
<th>Desirable</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>HNC or equivalent, plus significant relevant work experience or proven track record of relevant work experience. or Veterinary degree</td>
<td>Teaching qualification or HEA recognition.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

| Skills/Training            | Excellent understanding of the application of anatomy and physiology to veterinary practice. Excellent communication and interpersonal skills. Good time-management skills. Excellent skills in modern clinical practice working independently and part of a team. | Ability to use and develop appropriate IT-based teaching materials. |

| Experience                 | Experience of mentoring junior members of staff or students.                | Experience of teaching veterinary anatomy. Experience of teaching and assessing veterinary undergraduate students. Teaching in Higher Education. Experience in tutoring and counselling of students. |

| Personal Attributes        | Flexible approach to new methods in teaching. Enthusiasm for disseminating clinical and scientific knowledge. |                                                      |

| Other                     | Ability to work in a highly multidisciplinary and applied field.             |                                                      |

Because of the nature of the work for which you are applying, this post is exempted from the provisions of Section 4 (2) of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 by virtue of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exceptions) Order 1975.

Applicants are therefore, not entitled to withhold information about convictions, which for other purposes are “spent” under the provisions of the Act, and in the event of employment any failure to disclose such convictions could result in dismissal or disciplinary action by the University. Any information given will be strictly confidential and will be considered only in relation to an application for positions to which the Order applies.

Additionally, candidates should submit a CV which gives details of academic qualifications and a career summary. A statement of not more than 500 words on your long term clinical and teaching plans is also required.